User Researcher/UX Researcher

Anywhere

We are looking for a User Researcher who obsesses over getting immersed in the user's environment, understanding their psyche, motivations, behaviours to understand the real problems and needs

You will

- Uncover user needs
- Innovate, build, strategise with the product team

That's it.

If this sounds like your kind of challenge, take our screening test. We are eager to be impressed by you.

PEOPLE PRACTICES

WFH

We're currently in work-from-home mode. Anyone who's keen to join us is welcome to work from wherever they are comfortable.

Caravan

Every quarter, or when the pandemic allows, we bring the whole team together for a co-working and co-living experience in interesting, safe locations. WFH continues, but it can never replace the human bonds we cherish (and miss) so much.

Gifts of Growth

Every quarter, we come together to appreciate each other's awesomeness, and help each other grow through our challenges. We find this gifting season far more rewarding than performance reviews.

Uppraisals

Every year, we give flat increments across the organisation, plus ESOPs to every person regardless of their role or experience. We've chosen holistic, collective growth over competitive, individual gain.
